Urban Farms provides in-depth profiles of 16 innovative farms located in major metropolitan areas across the country, each operated by passionate individuals and communities committed to growing their own fruits and vegetables and raising animals. Included in these pages are some of the leaders in the movement, from Novella Carpenter's farm in an empty lot in Oakland to Growing Power's vast compound in Milwaukee. In addition to stories about the farms and their owners, sidebars provide basic how-to tips for such activities as composting, canning, beekeeping, and growing vegetables. A burgeoning movement that is fast catching on, urban farming taps into many touchstones of the zeitgeist, including environmental awareness, the foodie culture, localism, distrust of mass-production farming practices, and the DIY approach to life and living.

Praise for Urban Farms:

"Sarah C. Rich's handsome, intelligent URBAN FARMS (Abrams, $30) chronicles a movement to bring kale to the people, an effort that stretches across the country, from Brooklyn to Oakland. . . . Benson's spirited photographs capture the joy and beauty of urban farming's bounty. No vase full of lush peonies from the grounds of an elegant estate could inspire such looks of eager joy as do the tomatoes harvested out of New York City's Edible Schoolyard. These vegetable gardeners—and farmers—are working against such odds that there's simply no excuse to let a comparatively lush suburban backyard lie fallow." —New York Times Book Review

As a pupil exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library in order to make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just little students that has reading's soul or real their pastime. They just do what the trainer want, like asked to the library. They go to there but nothing reading significantly. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring in addition to can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is to be complicated. Book is very important for you. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Urban Farms can make you sense more interested to read.
