Primitive Culture, Researches Into the Development of Mythology, Philosophy, Religion, Language, Art and Customs, Vol. 1 of 2 (Classic Reprint) Edward Burnett Tylor

The present volumes, uniform with the previous volume of Researches into the Early History of Mankind (1st Ed. 1865; 2nd Ed. 1870), carry on the investigation of Culture into other branches of thought and belief, art and custom. During the past six years, I have taken occasion to bring tentatively before the public some of the principal points of new evidence and argument here advanced. The doctrine of survival in culture, the bearing of directly expressive language and the invention of numerals on the problem of early civilization, the place of myth in the primitive history of the human mind, the development of the animistic philosophy of religion, and the origin of rites and ceremonies, have been discussed in various papers and lectures, before being treated at large and with a fuller array of facts in this work. The authorities for the facts stated in the text are: Fortnightly Review: Origin of Language, April 15, 1866; Religion of Savages Anthropologist 15, 1866. Lectures at Royal Institution; Races of the Early Mental Condition of Man, March 16, 1867; Survival of Savage Thought in Modern Civilization, April 23, 1869. Lecture at University College, London: Spiritualistic Philosophy of the Lower Races of Mankind, May 8, 1869. Paper read at British Association, Kotttingham, 1866: Phenomena of Civilization Traceable to a Rudimentary Origin among Savage Tribes. Paper read at Ethnological Society of London, April 26, 1870; Philosophy of Religion among the Lower Races of Mankind c. o.
